SWINE CHAMPIONS NAMED AT PEORIA

State Champions Compete for National Honors. Few Wisconsin Entries.

A new champion heads the Durco-Jersey breed. He is "The Harvester," shown by F. L. Williams, Taintor, Ia., recently senior champion at the Iowa exposition.

Nebraska furnished the junior champion Durco, in a pig owned by Edward M. Kern, Stanton, and the reserve championship honors went to the Beechwood Farms of Ohio. Nebraska carried away the senior and grand championship Durco-sow honors when W. H. Rasmussen, Norfolk, Junior, sow championship went to Charles Wangen, Clayton, Ohio.

The Polands showed strong, being the heaviest hogs on exhibition at the National Swine show, on this week at Peoria, Ill.

First prize age boar went to W. J. Graham, Waverly, Minn., on Monarch. Roy Grasser, Prairie du Sac, Wis., won seventh on Big Buster, and E. L. D. van and Son, Green township, Green county, won eighth on Big King Porter, a consistent Wisconsin winner.

Pinehurst Farms, Wisconsin, showed a Durco exhibit and were awarded four hogs of the Durco breed.

"It was the best and biggest swine show that I know about," declared T. P. Shreve. "It was to be regretted that there were not more Wisconsin hogs."

The Peoria show is the real pork classic for the competing animals are generally state winners and running competition for the national championship.

TALKING HONEY

(No. 3)
It takes the bees as long to make the honey comb as it does to fill it with honey. So the modern beekeeper uses a machine called a honey extractor, removes the honey from the combs and sends the "empties" back to the bees to be filled again. This is a great saving in the bees' time just when they are busiest.

A honey extractor is a sort of metal tank about as large as a barrel, with a screened framework inside made to whirl around at the rate of 280 revolutions per minute. Honey for extracting comes in large combs about 3x3x8 inches. When the bees have filled and capped the combs the beekeeper pares off the capping with a sharp knife and places the combs in the "baskets" inside the extractor, which is then put in motion, and the honeycombs go whirling like a regular merry-go-round, and in a few minutes all the honey has been whirled out of one side and is dripping down the extractor. When one side of the comb is cleared of honey the "baskets" are reversed, and the process repeated until the other side is emptied. The combs are now ready for the bees to fill again, while the honey is drawn off into a tank and strained through cheesecloth or wire, and is ready for use.

Not all beekeepers extract their honey pinks. In my next talk I will have more to say about extracting honey.

BECAUSE of the shortage of heating equipment, we have had to allot the available supply of ARCOLA outfits to cities and towns in proportion to their population. (An outfit consists of one ARCOLA and an American Radiator for each room.)

While they last, these outfits will be sold at these low prices, $180 to $550, completely installed, depending on the size and number of rooms in your home.

Think of the comfort of radiator warmth in every room for only a few hundred dollars! The few ARCOLA outfits allotted here for ARCOLA WEEK (next week) will go very quickly. Don't shiver through another winter. See your Heating Contractor and ask him for an estimate today.

Look for this sign in your dealer's window. If your house is not warmed with radiators, Arcola will save 1/3 of your coal bill and pay for itself in from three to five years. ## DECREASE IS SEEN IN CLOVER CROP

Madison — Crop reports for the current season show a marked decrease in the Wisconsin clover crop. It is estimated that this season's production will fall to 27 percent of last year's crop. Dry weather and a short hay crop have reduced the acreage from 127,000 acres last year to 35,000 acres this year.

A very thin stand and drought has resulted in a 74 percent drop for the year. While 229,000 bushels of seed was produced last season, production has fallen to 115,000 for the present year.

Idaho is the only state in the Union where a decrease in the clover crop has not been reported. Estimates place the crop for the current year at about 48 percent of last year's crop.

BUTTER MAKERS TO OCCUPY THE STAGE

CALL MARKETING COMMISSION TO SETTLE GAS WAR

The State Fair marketing commission has been appealed to by Beloit independent gasoline dealers, asking that a probe be made of the cut in gasoline. This is the latest move of the independents in the Beloit gasoline price war. The Standard Oil and Buckner stations continued to sell low test gasoline at 12.8 a gallon, while other dealers are standing pat on their price of 16.3 cents a gallon.

Most of the independents in Beloit will attend the investigation at Madison, Oct. 8, and will endeavor to place the blame where it belongs. State officials will hear the story of the trouble as the appeal was made to the state marketing commission.

Attempts were made by the independent dealers to take an injunction against the Standard Oil company under the state anti-discrimination law but legal advisors pointed out that no injunction proceeding could be taken where either legal recourse was possible. The legal recourse was possible. The move to appeal to the state marketing commission was made late yesterday.

ABUNDANT WHEAT SUPPLY MAKES BREAD ECONOMICAL FOOD

Margarine an Excellent Spread for Bread

The housewife who is a wise provider will see to it that her family has plenty of bread. Nutrition experts tell us that from one-fifth to one-third of the calories should be supplied by cereal foods. Three-quarters of the cereal consumption of this country is in the form of wheat bread.

Just at present there is an abundant supply of wheat and bread is cheap. An increase in its use would result in a large saving to the American family and at the same time provide a simple but excellent diet. The selection of a suitable spread for bread needs consideration. For to the American taste something is needed with which to spread the bread and make it more palatable. From a dietetic standpoint, also, bread is not in itself a balanced ration but needs a complement in the form of nutritious spread composed of an edible fat.

For this purpose margarine is being called to the attention of and used by the American housewife. She wants wheat flour to be white, palatable and nutritious; and she wants the spread to be pure, wholesome and delicious. GOOD LUCK MARGARINE answers this requirement perfectly. Jelke GOOD LUCK MARGARINE is prepared from pure ingredients. Wholesome food oils rendered from meat fats are blended into a perfect emulsion with milk that is received from fresh and sweet cream from our farms. Both the ingredients and the method of preparation are delectably pure and sanitary. During the entire process of production Jelke GOOD LUCK MARGARINE never comes in contact with human hands. Be a spread with Jelke GOOD LUCK MARGARINE forms a combination that is delicious and nourishing. Whenever the one is used the other should also be in evidence. Advertisement.

PUTS YOU "ON YOUR TOES"

For the up-and-coming man who tackles the day's job with energy and vim nothing so delicious and satisfying as Shredded Wheat Biscuit eaten with hot milk and a little cream. It supplies bodily warmth and strength that fortify the body against cold—and it contains all the bran you need to stimulate bowel movement. Two Biscuits with milk make a perfect meal for breakfast, for lunch, for dinner. Delicious with sliced bananas or other fruits. Better for children than mushy porridges because the crisp, flavory shreds of baked wheat encourage thorough chewing.

Makes Clothes Look like New

There's crisp freshness to clothes washed with KIRK'S FLAKE. Fine linens or heavy woollens, filmy laces or stout cotton fabrics, dainty tints or solid colors—all are perfectly safe in the foamy, cleansing, penetrating lather of this pure white soap.

When You Serve Soup—

BE SURE to serve "Charm" Crackers. For even the most delicious soup is more satisfying when eaten with these thin, salt-sprinkled crackers, baked to a crispy flakiness. Whether you prefer a thick, rich cream soup or a simple consommé you'll like it better with Johnston's "Charm" Crackers. Ask your grocer for a pound today.

Johnston's
Cookies & Crackers

PURE—
Calumet contains only such ingredients as have been officially approved by U.S. Food Authorities.

SURE—
Because every ounce of Calumet Baking Powder is given an actual chemical, oven and baking test before it leaves the factories.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST BAKING POWDER

SALES 2½ TIMES AS MUCH AS ANY OTHER BRAND

ECONOMICAL—
Because Calumet is moderate in price—has more than the ordinary leavening strength—therefore you use less—Best by Test.

UNIFORM—
Because the can of Calumet you buy today contains the same high quality leavener as did the first can ever made—the quality never varies. Last spoonful as good as the first.

Once tried you will never use any other kind

"Ladies First"

It's hard to be polite, especially when Mother puts his favorite kind of cookie on the table. Patty likes 'em too, so what can he do?

Little folks can eat Quality Cookies by the pound and still come up for more, they're so fresh and tasty.

There are almost a hundred different kinds of Quality Cookies, all just "like Mother made" - flav' and tender. Only the richest milk, the best wheat flour and the freshest eggs are used—that's why they're so hard to refuse.

Costs less per cup because— in Thomas J. Webb Coffee the following extraordinary precautions have been taken to provide and preserve full coffee flavor and richness:

—it is a Superior Blend— of only the choicest and most expensive of coffees—those scientifically known to contain the greatest amount of essential coffee oils.

—Sealed in the Roasting

It is roasted in the "live flame"—an original roasting process that seals all the flavor-giving oils into each tiny cell of the coffee cherry. As a result, all the natural richness of Thomas J. Webb Coffee goes into your coffee cup.

—Sealed in the Packing

Furthermore, the freshly roasted coffee itself is in turn packed and sealed in air tight, moistureproof tins. This insures freshness of every precious particle all the way down to the last coffee bean in the tin. These are the reasons why Thomas J. Webb Coffee—yields more cups to the pound

"LICK BELOIT" IS GIBSON'S SLOGAN AT MASS MEETING

"Beloit is going to be licked this year—we are going to break the jinx that has caused Janesville to be defeated in so many games with them for the last 13 or 14 years," said Coach Gibson of the high school at the mass meeting for the football team to be held Saturday.

The entire team appeared before the school Friday morning for the first time this semester and were given cheer after cheer by the students.

Joe Leary, captain of the team, gave a short talk.

The high school band played several selections at both the senior and junior assemblies. They will also play at the fair grounds Saturday for the game with St. Thomas' preps of Rockford.

ROAD CELEBRATION NEXT WEDNESDAY

Janesville, and Evansville to Join in Program at Midway Farm on No. 10.

Formal opening of the 17 miles of concrete road which connects Janesville and Evansville, known as the state trunk system, as Highway No. 10, will be held at the E. F. Fish farm just west of Leyden at 2 p. m. Wednesday.

Arrangements were completed Thursday by the Janesville Chamber of Commerce and the Commercial club of Evansville. The program is approximately half way between the two cities and Mr. Fish's farm at which the ceremonies will be held is the first place west of Leyden.

Automobiles will start from the two cities will meet at the Fish place and several speeches will be made. Rev. W. B. McDermott, will speak for Evansville and City Manager Henry Francis, and others for Janesville.

Oscar Nelson, manager of the Janesville Chamber of Commerce, is making arrangements for the high school band to play at the exercises.
The concrete road has been open to traffic for several weeks, but it is 2,000 feet within the city limits of Evansville was not completed until recently, and the celebration has been held at that fact.

CONVICT BATTLE COMES TO HALT UNTIL EVENING

floor and using windows as loopholes stood off attackers. During the two nights of the siege a score of acetylene torches, from the prison grounds, have cast their flickering light against the mess hall walls forming a circle of light through which the man might not pass undetected by the eyes of the ring of riflemen who watched from the shadows on the outside of the illuminated circle.

One still held out Opinion was expressed in some quarters last night that the beleaguered desperadoes had been killed or seriously wounded. It was proved, however, that at least one still was able to walk when a figure was seen to emerge from the mess hall door. Greeted by a burst of bullets from the watching guards, the man fled back into the dark interior of the building. Later a guard, in an attempting to replace one of the torches, momentarily deserted cover and three shots were fired from the building.

Persons familiar with the interior of the mess hall explained that it would have been possible for the gunmen to have escaped the prison guards by entering the prison ovens, proof it was claimed against bullets.

Three Night Desperadoes
The desperate courage of the lost legion—those men with "all to gain and nothing to lose"—carried the troop through two barracks from the poorly guarded kitchen and machine guns that drove a hail of steel-jacketed bullets through the mess hall walls, tearing out large holes in the north and west walls at points where the fire was concentrated; a gas attack released by tear gas bombs lobbed into the building through the breaches in the walls, and a bombardment of rifle grenades.

It was announced early Friday following a conference between Warden Chilton and officers of the machine gun troop, that it was expected the siege would be ended soon. What plans were made to dislodge the desperadoes was not divulged, however.

When three convicts seemed desirous of holding their position until evening following an announcement by Warden Chilton. He said further conferences and efforts to dislodge the men would be held up until 5:30 awaiting the arrival of three members of the state board of charities and correction.

The warden said the convicts evidently had used four ninety gallon iron steam boilers in the front of the building and a steel sheeted bread mixer in the rear as hiding places.
In his opinion, the convicts could hide in these places and each man could stand off a regiment.

MILWAUKEE ROAD LIKELY TO BE STATE HIGHWAY

sin there is no state trunk running northwest and southwest. Mr. Blanchard declared that in one of the richest areas of Wisconsin there is no route connecting the cities of Janesville, Edgemoor, Albion, Christiansburg, York, Columbus, towards the northeast and Monticello, New Glarus, to the southwest.

He was thanked by Chairman Staudenmayer for his suggestions, possibly a significant fact that they will be given much thought.

100 to Brooklyn
M. L. Paulson, board chairman of the county board, presented a petition signed by 125 persons for the continuation of 104 through to Brookfield.

Attorney E. D. McGowan called the attention of the committee to the need for making the Milwaukee road a state trunk highway, pointing out that it was the most direct route to Milwaukee. He said that if mileage was to be given Rock county, it should be given more consideration than this road. Oscar Nelson, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, showed that in considering a route from Milwaukee to Dubuque, it was the logical route. Frank Jackson spoke in behalf of the road.

Favor Milwaukee Road.
A vote taken as an expression of the wish of those in the room in regard to the placing of the Milwaukee road trunk system showed about 35 in favor and none against.

Bellevue and other Illinois cities want a route into Wisconsin without going to Rockford and Joliet and coming up on 10. R. E. Snyder, Clinton, and H. S. Henderson, Burlington, told the committee that it would relieve the dangerously heavy traffic on 10, was a contention made by supporters of the route which would go from Bergen, Clinton, Avalon, to join with 20 at Emerald Grove and possibly continue on county trunk N to Milton, Ill. C.
Nauka, Bergen, spoke for the road.
John Burlingame then started an argument over the three routes east from Janesville, when he showed the saving that might be effected should the Milwaukee road be connected with Highway 20. Other speakers pointed out that it was not probable that both would be surfaced with concrete.

Can't Divert Traffic.
Bert Mosley, chairman of the highway committee and member of the assembly and Commissioner Charles E. Moore expressed practically the same sentiments—that it would be a saving in case both roads were to be concreted, but traffic couldn't be diverted. Mr. Moore said the greatest benefit.

If I Could Paint Cars—AUTOMOBILE painting is an art. I would let car owners know that I was an artist in this particular line. I would get them to feel that when they needed painting job they simply would have to bring their cars to me.

Naturally I couldn't go to all the car owners in Janesville and tell them about my talent for car painting. Luckily I wouldn't have to do that anyway. I would let a Janesville Gazette writer attend to getting me the cars. I'd devote my time to doing the painting. While I painted at a profit, my want Ad the middle road ends at the county line. C. Hotchkiss, the state highway committee chairman outlined the work of the commission and declared that the legislative committee is doing what no other committee has ever attempted, holding hearings in every one of the 71 counties in Wisconsin. The hearings will be concluded by the end of next week and then will start the work of selecting the 2,500 miles from the 12, 000 which will have been proposed as possibilities for the state trunk system.

A Great Problem.
State Engineer Hirst in his opening speech declared that the highway problem is reaching appalling proportions and is one of great magnitude with which we are just beginning to cope. He said highway improvements demanded by the representative communities which the committee has already visited would cost $100,000,000 if carried out.
Today Wisconsin is spending $16, 000,000 for construction of roads, bridges and bridges, while in 1907 it spent $10,000,000. More than $10, 000,000 is invested in motor vehicles in Wisconsin, for the privilege of operating which the owners yearly pay $2,500,000.

"The eye sight of 25 years ago can't take it all in now," said Mr.
Hirst. It is a most tremendous economic problem. The largest private spending for a luxury we have.

"We have jazzed up to this stage without realizing the governmental problem it produces. At the same time, there is the problem of raising highway taxation and at the same time fulfilling the demands for better highway service. If automobiles increase at the rate they have in the past, 17 or 20 per cent yearly, there will be absolutely no chance for a reduction in highway taxation.

"Rock county is losing hundreds of thousands of dollars a year by postponing the construction of some of its main highways," Mr. Hirst said.

Present at the hearing were Assemblymen
C. E. Hanson, River Falls; P. A. Friedrich, Manitowish
Richard Kamke, Merrill, and Senator Staudenmayer, who together with Senator Oscar Morris, Milwaukee, compose the committee. George Lambeck, division engineer, W. O.

SILENCE REIGNS AT WHITE HOUSE

Unprecedented Secrecy Envelopes President's Conferences.

By DAVID L. WHENCE Copyright 1923, by Janesville Daily Gazette.

Washington—An involuntary secrecy envelops the public business being transacted nowadays at the White House. The many callers on the daily engagement list of President Coolidge have developed a habit of silence, and the executive himself is reputed to have adopted a policy of silence. As a consequence, a little of what is actually happening behind the scenes is coming to light.

The responsibility for this state of affairs goes back to an informal observation recently that the president would not be responsible for the statements made by his callers on leaving the White House. The person who called for this comment was a story obtained by a man who had discussed the world court with President Coolidge. The impression given was that Mr. Coolidge would expose the world court idea just as did his predecessor. No denial was issued contradicting the story, but the significant statement was made at the White House that the president would not be accountable for what his callers said.

In Considered Unethical
Since then the idea seems to have spread that it is unethical to discuss with the president. Many of the callers frankly tell the newspaper men they have been given to understand that it is improper to disclose what has been said. As a consequence the public is left to obtain its information from the president himself. To the newspaper men, this is a breach of the rules. But under the rules, Mr. Coolidge has the right to decline to answer any of the written questions handed to him. It is a breach of the rules to let the public know what questions he refuses to answer and there would be many an interesting story indeed if it were possible to get the answers to the questions. In December, 1922, Mr. Coolidge has sidestepped since he became president.

Want Saying Much
In the first few conferences with the press it is not surprising that the president permitted enough information about his policies to let out to get an idea of what he was doing. In recent weeks there has been a noticeable diminution in information. Much of the president's plans are necessarily withheld because he wants to put his program into a complete address to congress in December. This has a multitude of subjects on which there is just now live interest.

Details of some of the conferences at the White House have been given out, but usually after the callers have departed and there is no opportunity to get the impartial view of what is being done that has been possible under the preceding administrations. There have been some callers who upon learning the version of their visit given out at the White House a day or so after their departure would have been glad to express their side of the question but have been restrained by what they imagined to be the ethics of the situation.

Secrecy Not Unprecedented
There is nothing unethical in a frank statement by a visitor at the White House as to the purpose of his call, or even an explanation of what has been said to the president. It always has been considered bad form for a caller to be quoted on the president's views without permission, though many callers have felt it was proper to give the impressions they received of the presidential attitude toward pending questions. If the president desires to prevent any intimation of his views from being given out, by his callers he can ask the visitors to keep his observations a confidential matter.

As it is, few people are talking after seeing the president and the latter has the benefit of rules which forbid his being quoted at all by the press or mentioning what they ask him. The upshot of the procedure is an era of secrecy on public business that is unprecedented.

Walworth County Tells What it Wants in Way of Roads

Fitchburg—All parts of Walworth county were represented in leading citizens at the highway meeting, Tuesday. Senator Standeen presided and A. R. Hirst gave a comprehensive explanation of highway conditions in the state. He was followed by Rev. Paul Jenkins, Williams Bay, who presented the needs of the south and west part of the county. A number of citizens spoke and the wishes of the people of the county were presented. The committee took the matter under advisement and left in the afternoon for Janesville. The members of the highway committee appointed by the governor and members of the state highway commission were present at the meeting. More than the county's allotment of 32 miles was asked for and it remains to be seen just what the committee will recommend.

Says Tanlac Ended 15 Years of Trouble

"I just think Tanlac is the grandest medicine made," is the high opinion recently expressed by Mrs. Ella Barlow, 146 Military St., Fond Du Lac, Wis., in telling of her experience with the treatment.

For about fifteen years I had been bothered badly with stomach trouble and got to where I could hardly drink even water at times. I lived almost exclusively on milk and even then gastritis, heartburn, palpitation, dizziness and nervousness troubled me dreadfully. Rheumatism in my knees added to my weakness.
